What: The 2017 Guggenheim Young Collectors Party to benefit the Young Collectors Council kicks off with specialty cocktails in the museum's iconic rotunda, recognizing artists whose work has been acquired through funds raised by the YCC. A dinner in The Wright restaurant follows, at which guests will enjoy Sarah Crowner's recently unveiled immersive installation of gleaming terracotta tiles and a striking sewn-canvas backdrop distinguished by its geometric abstract design. After dinner, a celebration featuring an open bar, a DJ set by Ryan McNamara, and performances by Kim Brandt, FlucT, Sam Roeck, and Quenton Stuckey activate the museum's singular interior and rounds off a night of dancing and revelry.

Support for the Young Collectors Party is provided by Grey Goose.
